IMPORTANT INFORMATION

In 2010 we will be producing our protective clothing with a new model of Engtex Material. This fabric has been in development and testing for the last year with extremely positive results. The new fabric meets and exceeds all of the ASTM requirements and has been classified by UL. Because of the increased strength, we are able to produce a more protective chap with fewer layers of material. Please note: All standard products will now have 6 layers instead of the previous 7 layers. All professional products will continue to have 9 layers. Our 2010 pricing reflects this change.
